

Intensive Days

Rationale for Intensives:

By providing a full-day or more offering that will concentrate on one specific topic, we will provide opportunities for people whose interests go beyond beginner levels. These offerings will take place on Thursday or Friday and will be in place of the general small group sessions.

Advance registration for any intensive day will be required. Additional charges may be made.

Intensive Day Example—Genealogy

Resources (listed alphabetically at site available)

- Calumet
 - Ancestry.com sites (internet in computer lab in Calumet Public Library)
 - Calumet and Hecla Personnel Records from 1865 to 1914
 - Cornish American Heritage Society Library materials
 - Cornish Global Migration Project Database
 - Ross Collection (either at National Park Service or Calumet Library)
 - West Briton microfilm and index
- Eagle River
 - Keweenaw County Courthouse
- Houghton
 - Houghton County Courthouse
 - Michigan Tech Archives

Facilities

- Calumet Public Library with microfilm reader and printer + 30 station internet-ready computer lab
- Keweenaw National Historical Park Reading Room
- Local cemeteries
 - Lake View
 - Schoolcraft
 - Evergreen
 - Pine Grove
 - Others
- MTU Archives
 - Others

Potential speakers or Resource People

- Calumet Library
 - Deb Oyler, Librarian, Calumet Public Library
 - Anne Boggio, former librarian at Finlandia University
 - Greta Erm, Regional Educational Media Center Director, Hancock
- Cornish-American Heritage Association Library
 - Jean Jolliffe (CAHS library)
- Cornish Global Migration Project Database
 - Juliet Jenkin, Director, Murdoch House, Redruth
 - Moirang Tangye, former director
- Michigan Technological University Archives
 - Erik Nordberg, Archivist

Ross Collection

Abby Sue Fisher, Keweenaw National Historical Park

Other suggestions:

